Dear sir,

Dover, July. 14. 1813.

Mr. Read informed me, when last at Dover, that the Analectical Review had been seen by him before he left Newcastle, that it contained an excellent likeness of Captain Jones and a tolerable biographical sketch of the same personage. I think he said it was the number for July. As no person takes this work, who now lives in Dover or indeed in this county, to my knowledge, may I beg of you the favour to send it to me, on loan, by some person whom you may see coming to Dover? it shall be returned on the 26th of August, when I shall have the pleasure, I hope, of seeing you in Wilmington. I wish to see the Review for two reasons; the first is, to see how the resemblance is between the picture presented and the original; the other is to observe what variations (in case it is the same in the sketch attempted by me) the publisher has made from the copy, sent or by you.

We have missed you wonderfully from Dover. The family of your successor being small & very retired, the dwelling part of the house, is as silent and secluded as a sepulchre. No cracking of boots on the pavement, morning and evening — no political pleasantry with with the Cashier &c &c apropos, he is rather short-breath'd for such things; — indeed, we miss you all, greatly.

We have nothing new here, except I have just heard, that the Chancellor has turned Methodist and that you have the ague, two things I am very sorry for. With respect to yourself, I had hoped that your new residence would at least ~~have~~ continue to you your usual health; but the worst agues and fevers, I ever was afflicted with, came on me in the Borough of Wilmington. I had four ague there and when I arrived at Dover, my disorder assumed the bilious type and had like to have ended my days on earth. I have been twice visited by the ague in Wilmington, within ten years, both times it was worse than any I ever had here or elsewhere.

With sentiments of perfect esteem & regard I am, Dr. Sir,

Your Obed.t Servt

John Fisher.

Dear Sir

I received yours of the 9th Inst and can't say I felt disappointed respecting the Contents, relative either to Mr Kinney or Mr Battle as to the first I had so frequently been informed, that your according to a proposition of Sale, was sufficient to make him decline it — that he was always purchasing, but never bought — Under this knowledge of him, I should not have made the proposition of Sale — but as Mr McCalmont wished me to offer it to him I did upon the terms proposed and left on his part and Mr Battle's Conduct made me more readily give into it — I have little doubt we shall ever deal tho' I have a little hurt, I shall ever like meet with my price — Land keeps advancing in price here — the place Mr Kinney was viewing near Newport has been bought at the price I gave and some sold at an advance of $3000 — As for Mr Battle the impression received from upon my first knowledge of him and his moving upon my place is certainly very much revered, yet since his refusal to render an Acct of the production of the Farm or an Acct of Sales, so characteristick of a want of Principle, that I can't say I have been much disappointed at his subsequent conduct - I have postponed answering your Letter earlier, under a small hope, that he would attend to your request of a settlement, and so prevent my application to any legal step to compel him - I would then give him a thank. to request him once more, and which if he does not immediately attend to - I will have writ. If I can get down a Landlord warrant for the purpose of seizing on his property - this I expect is the correct step, but previous to doing it, I shall take legal advice - I shall do it with unwillingness, but, there is such a deficiency of common decent politeness in his part, that I can scarcely entertain to nothing else — Mrs McClement received the Parcels sent by Mr Caverly — they were very at the time very acceptable, but she soon lost her relish for them — I seem at some loss how to dispose of the Boy in which they were enclosed — the Stage seems to be uncertain a mode of returning it. I shall forward it by some safe offering one — Mrs McClement still continues very unwell, tho' slightly better, she has once taken a ride of about half a mile — I need not tell you about our late general alarms here and our progressing military defence under the direction of Capt C. Bennet — Has any Fear entered themselves to the City of Dover or the Vault of the Farmers Bank —

Mr Sylvester Welsh of Chester informs me you have a disposition to purchase my farm ~~I~~ near that Village — I am at present disposed to sell it, and as unless I sell for or shall lease it to a person who is now with me yet anxious to take it for a term of years, I am induced to write you & shall be glad to hear from you on the subject as early or will suit your convenience — The farm contains 305 acres and I can say from actual experience was one of the most productive plantations in the County — I am very respectfully

Dear Uncle

I feel impressed with unbounded gratitude for your timely assistance and shall never forget a relation who has evinced for me in my boyish days a fatherly affection and is still disposed to render any assistance my situation may require.

From undoubted authority I have ascertained that the retaliatory system is done away with in a great measure and that the Officers confined here is no longer considered as Hostages but will be released and sent on parole at Dartmouth a village opposite Halifax to day is tomorrow with assurances from the Agent of being sent to the Dock in a Cartel in eight or ten days.

The near prospect of seeing my Country diffuses a flow of spirits in me that I have been a stranger to since I have been as Hostage confined in the gloomy cell of a Prison ship and when I reflect that I shall no longer waste the prime of my days in useless confinement but be enabled to render my Country the services my weak abilities may be capable

Dear Sir

Your favour of the 21st. did not receive before this morning: But I am happy to have it in my power to inform you that, I have succeeded in obtaining a letter of Credit for the sum of $200 Dollrs in favour of your Nephew Richd. Snell, which I will forward by the Mail tomorrow morning for Salem, inclosed to some person who will put it on board the Ship Bostwick for Halifax - I trust he will receive the Cash very soon, as his situation must be very uncomfortable even with money, & much more without it. I could not obtain the letter unless I agreed to allow the House in Halifax to draw on me for the same at the current rate of exchange, which will probably be at a loss of 10 pr. Cent. this I conclude was best to do, under the circumstancey of the Case - I hope you will think so too — I will draw on you when it becomes necessary for me to advance the Money.— Be assured I will not think it any trouble to render you any service in my power at any & all times —

We are well, & are happy to hear that you & your family are so likewise — Harriet joins me in love to you all

Yours very sincerely

Dear Uncle

It appears from the papers Congress Contemplates raising an additional Army of forty Thousand men to be Composed of Artillery Dragoons Infantry & Rifle regiments. I have reflected on my present rank in the Army and find in all probability I shall not be promoted in less than two or three Years I have therefore thought it expedient if it meets Your approbation of becoming an applicant for a Majority in this new raised Artillery Corps the surest way of obtaining my point would be for You to request O Hosey Esq. & Ridgely Esq. to become my friends for they will have the appointing of such applicants from the State of Delaware as they may deem proper and any request You may ask will be attended to by those Gentlemen
